

A WORLD OF POSSIBILITIES

2025-2026 ANNUAL REPORT

OUR MISSION IS TO CHANGE KIDS' LIVES THROUGH TRANSFORMATIVE SUMMER CAMP EXPERIENCES.

A World of Possibilities

Possibility often begins in the simplest of moments. It might be the courage to try something new, the encouragement of a trusted mentor, or the friendship that helps a young person feel they truly belong. At camp, those moments happen every day, quietly shaping how youth see themselves and what they believe their futures can become.

One summer can open a world of possibilities. For the youth we serve, camp is far more than four weeks outdoors. It is a place where they develop independence, embrace responsibility, build lasting relationships, and gain confidence through new challenges. Surrounded by caring mentors and a supportive community, they begin to imagine futures that once felt beyond their reach.

At A Thousand Summers, we believe every young person deserves that opportunity, regardless of their family's financial circumstances. We remove barriers, prepare families for the camp experience, and support participants throughout their journeys.

For many, that journey begins with our Campership Program, where multiple summers at camp lay the foundation for lifelong growth. Some participants continue into the Outdoor Leadership Program, strengthening their leadership skills while exploring careers in the outdoor, conservation, and environmental fields. Others return through the Fellowship Program, serving as counselors and mentors for younger campers.

The stories in this report are possible because of you. Your generosity opens doors that help young people discover their potential and create brighter futures.

Thank you for believing in the power of camp and the extraordinary potential of the youth we serve.

Possibility Begins with Access

Every young person deserves the opportunity to discover what they are capable of. For many of the families we serve, however, the cost of an extended stay wilderness camp places that opportunity out of reach. A Thousand Summers (ATS) removes those financial barriers so youth can access the life-changing benefits of camp, regardless of their circumstances.

In 2026, we awarded 137 camperships, providing youth ages 10 to 17 from underrepresented backgrounds with the opportunity to attend one of our thirteen high-quality associate camps across the country. The support for our campers extends far beyond covering the high cost of camp tuition. We also provide travel, equipment, mentoring, and pre-camp preparation to ensure every participant is equipped to make the most of this transformational experience.

Possibility Grows Through Challenge

Once the youth we serve arrive at camp, every experience is intentionally designed to help them face new challenges with confidence. Over the course of multiple summers, campers take on increasingly ambitious adventures that build confidence, resilience, responsibility, and independence. As they stretch beyond what they believe they can do, they develop a self-assurance that will remain with them long after summer ends.

Living in a camp community teaches participants how to build meaningful friendships, work as part of a team, solve problems, and contribute to something larger than themselves. Campers return home with new skills and the belief that they can overcome challenges both outdoors and in everyday life.

"Towards the end of camp, I was shocked to discover the impact I'd had on people. People who I interacted with maybe once or twice came up to me and told me that they appreciated me and how kind I was. I'm not trying to toot my own horn but realizing that I had that impact on even one person made me more confident that I actually mattered to people."

— Maeve

"This program [Compass] has been outstanding. Every week was valuable information that is helping to shape our children into empowered and confident teens! I loved the camp specific breakout sessions as well."
— Parent of 3rd year camper

The Campership Program is strengthened by the Compass and Capstone Programs, which deepen learning before and after camp and help participants carry those lessons into their daily lives. Before camp, the Compass Program connects campers from across the country through virtual group experiences that help them build relationships, reflect on their strengths, develop a sense of belonging, and prepare for the opportunities and challenges ahead.

Feedback collected from participants over the past 5 years has shown that continued participation in the program improves personal growth. In addition, 90% of the participants in 2026 said that the Compass

Program prepared them for camp and 84% said they would put their Compass skills to use at camp.

Directors of our associate camps increasingly cite this pre-camp preparation work as being of critical importance and a valuable component of our partnership.

As campers mature, these Compass Program experiences become something even greater. The confidence they gain evolves into leadership, and the connections they build inspire them to create positive change for others.

WANT TO LEARN MORE?

Possibility Expands Through Connection

The journey does not end when campers return home. As participants grow older, the Capstone Program encourages them to transform what they have learned into meaningful action by designing and leading a community service project in their local community with guidance from their mentor.

In 2026, 10 participants completed Capstone projects that strengthened their leadership, communication, and organizational skills while creating positive change. These projects demonstrate that camp develops more than outdoor skills. The program inspires young people to lead with purpose, serve others, and recognize that their actions can make a lasting difference.

One summer can open a world of possibilities. Through every campership, every Compass session, and every Capstone project, young people discover new strengths, build lasting relationships, and gain the confidence to shape their futures. What begins with access grows into challenge, expands through connection, and becomes a foundation for a lifetime of possibility.

Possibility Becomes Leadership

The Outdoor Leadership Program creates new possibilities for campers as they transition beyond the Campership Program and prepare for the next stage of their journey. In 2026, 10 participants who attended five different associate camps came together for this immersive wilderness leadership experience.

Led in partnership with Open Roads, the expedition combines backpacking and river travel with hands-on leadership development, environmental stewardship, service learning, and technical wilderness training. Along the way, participants strengthen outdoor skills, learn valuable wilderness first aid skills, and discover what they can accomplish when they rely on one another and embrace new challenges.

More than an outdoor adventure, the program helps participants build the confidence, judgment, and leadership abilities that prepare them for future opportunities. Whether they pursue the opportunity to move on to the ATS Fellowship Program, careers in the outdoor field, or leadership roles within their own communities, they leave with practical skills and a deeper belief in their ability to make a meaningful impact.

Participants also form lasting connections with peers from partner camps across the country. By sharing experiences, learning from different perspectives, and supporting one another throughout the expedition, they expand what they believe is possible and begin to see themselves not only as campers, but as the next generation of outdoor leaders.

"I really enjoyed the trip and feel like it provided me with tools to use in my daily life. I learned a lot about creating a cohesive community, sharing feedback, taking initiative, and how to live in the outdoors. I liked how every person got the chance to be Leader of the Day, since it pushed us out of our comfort zone to find new ways to be a leader."

Possibility Creates Role Models

For many young people, one summer at camp opens the door to opportunities they never imagined. The Fellowship Program extends that journey by helping Campership Program alumni take the next step from participant to leader while removing the financial barriers that can prevent them from working as camp counselors.

Fellows receive additional training, mentorship, and a stipend as they assume greater responsibility at camp and within the ATS community. In return, they provide encouragement, guidance, and support to the next generation of ATS campers while gaining valuable professional experience and references for future opportunities.

In 2026, seven Campership Program alumni served as Fellows across five of our thirteen associate camps, expanding the program's reach and creating more opportunities for current campers to see someone with a shared background thriving in a leadership role.

As Fellows grow into confident mentors, they demonstrate what is possible when access, perseverance, and opportunity come together. Their leadership inspires younger campers to imagine a future where they too can give back and help others discover a world of possibilities.

"The Fellowship has been an incredible experience for professional development. I have loved taking on additional responsibilities at camp that make me feel like I'm contributing to the development of a program I believe so much in."

2025-2026 Volunteer of the Year

Jim Eby

A Thousand Summers is proud to announce that Jim Eby from Elgin, Illinois, is our Volunteer of the Year. He has been a volunteer with A Thousand Summers and providing the youth that we serve with a world of possibilities since 2016.

Jim started as a Campership Mentor, helping families through the campership and enrollment process. More recently, he's stepped into the role of Capstone Program Coordinator, working alongside Capstone campers and their Project Advisors as they plan and carry out their community service projects. He is always willing to help campers work through an idea, offer practical advice when it's needed, or just be there cheering them on. Jim energizes the group, offering his wisdom and support to all.

As a former Colvig Silver Camps counselor and later a YWCA camp director, Jim understands the power of camp firsthand. He brings practical advice, encouragement, and positive energy to every conversation.

Anna Regan, ATS Program Manager said, "Having grown up attending summer camp, Jim draws on that experience as a volunteer, sharing funny stories and the value of the friendships he made there — many of which he maintains today. Jim shows up wherever he's needed and brings a positive spirit to every conversation. After 10 years of giving so much to A Thousand Summers, we're thrilled to name him our 2026 Volunteer of the Year."

It has been extremely rewarding to work with the ATS staff, mentors, and campers for the last 10 years on the Capstone Program. Watching these young people put the values and skills they have learned at camp into practice as they plan and execute their projects, in service to their communities, has been truly amazing.”

Financial Summary

Unaudited Financial Information 7/1/2025 – 6/30/2026

We had another very strong year in financial terms with unrestricted fundraising at an all-time high. The support we have received from donors, sponsors, and partners, coupled with healthy program revenue will enable us to invest heavily in our programs in 2026-2027. Organizational assets have continued to grow and now exceed $6 million. This impressive growth has been achieved through a combination of new long-term donor contributions and decent investment returns. Endowed Campership Funds account for 65% of the overall value of organizational assets.

We are honored to partner with you as we deliver on our mission. Together, we are making an increasingly positive impact on the social and emotional development and leadership potential of the growing numbers of young people we serve.

Give the Gift of Stock and Increase Your Impact

Did you know that we accept gifts of stock? Donating appreciated securities is a smart way to help open a world of possibilities for the youth we serve. By contributing long term appreciated stock, bonds, or mutual funds, you may be able to make a greater charitable impact while also increasing your potential tax deduction compared with giving cash or selling the assets first and donating the after-tax proceeds.

Please contact us before making a transfer, as brokerage firms do not always provide donor information. You can locate our organization by searching for the John Austin Cheley Foundation (FEIN #48-1077337) through your brokerage firm. You can also find additional information and download stock transfer instructions at athousandsummers.org/stock.

Possibility Becomes Legacy

The impact of a summer at camp lasts a lifetime. An endowed campership ensures those life-changing experiences continue for generations.

This year, three new endowed campership funds were established, each reflecting a family's vision for creating lasting impact through A Thousand Summers. These new funds bring our total to 26 endowments, strengthening a permanent foundation that will continue opening a world of possibilities for youth well into the future.

Unlike an annual gift, an endowment is designed to make an impact year after year. It is a commitment that extends beyond a single summer, providing dependable support that helps future generations discover confidence, belonging, purpose, and a lifelong connection to the outdoors.

Every endowment represents more than financial support. It reflects a belief that every young person deserves the chance to experience the transformational power of camp, regardless of their circumstances. It is a legacy of generosity that will continue creating new beginnings, new adventures, and new opportunities for years to come.

We are deeply grateful to the families who recently established the Virginia Cheley Sass & Louis Sass Family Campership and the Fuller Family Trust Endowed Campership funds, as well as all of the Cheley donors who came together to establish the Don & Carole Cheley Campership Fund. Their generosity will continue opening a world of possibilities for generations of youth who have yet to discover all they are capable of becoming.

Carole and Don Cheley
with former board chair, Jim Fuller

We are excited to present the Don & Carole Cheley Endowed Campership. Don and Carole were amazing stewards of the Cheley Experience and positively impacted the lives of thousands of young people during their leadership of Cheley Camps.

Don is one of the most recognized leaders in camping over the past 40 years, and Carole has served in various leadership roles in the industry. Carole was the president of the Association of Independent Camps, and Don was the president of the American Camping Association, the American Camp Foundation, and the Rocky Mountain Conservancy. Don has received distinguished service awards for his leadership and both are recognized internationally for their dedication and contributions to the camping profession.

We couldn't have done it without you and would like to recognize all donors who contributed to the Foundation from July 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026.
